The Surveyor reports that the Kendrick Creek between Weymouth St. and Regent Street is very crooked - Some time since a channel was cut through a wall to straighten - but during heavy rain the creek water follows the old channel and is encroaching on the buildings on each side of High St. to construct about 50 feet of cutting and embankment and increase the width of the cutting will reduce - at a cost of £400 to £500 - another portion lower down will perhaps require embanking afterwards - The footpath requires forming and kerbing the whole length - patching will be of little use - the work similar to that at Golden Square bridge will cost for 60 chains with culverts about £4500
